3. Viral content Guide

Universal rules

DO

- Hook viewers in the first 1–2 seconds
- Keep videos fast and easy to understand
- Use gameplay as the main visual
- Create curiosity, surprise, humor, or emotion
- Make content feel native to TikTok/Reels/Shorts
- Show/Mention Animal Valley logo/brand as game

DON'T

- Make the video look like a traditional ad
- Use long intros
- Leave slow gameplay sections
- Cover the gameplay with too much text
- Post video creatives from assets as a raw reel
- Use aggressive CTAs throughout the video
- Rely on AI-generated captions without checking them
- Use clickbait or hooks that misrepresent the clip

- Use random cuts or spam effects

Best principle:

> Make people want to watch the video first. Make them discover Animal Valley naturally.

| Format | How to make it | Hook examples | Key requirements |
|---|---|---|---|
| Gameplay | Let the gameplay carry the video. Use the most interesting moment and build a simple story around it. | “This game is way harder than it looks.”“Nobody told me this strategy was broken.”“I challenged my friend… biggest mistake ever.” | • Fill the screen with gameplay (60-80% of screen)• One clear hook at the top• Show the strongest moment early• Cut slow sections• Keep the story easy to follow |
| UGC/Voiceover Story | Tell a short, natural story while gameplay illustrates what you're saying. | “I randomly found this game and played for three hours straight.”“I wasn't expecting much… until this happened.”“This game looks simple, but it's actually insanely competitive.” | • Natural voice and pacing• Avoid long pauses / robotic delivery• Gameplay should match the narration• Check subtitles manually• AI voiceover is allowed, but edit and subtitles must be checked |
| Relaxing / Cozy Animal Content | Create calming, satisfying videos focused on cute animals, peaceful gameplay, and cozy moments. You can also create short cartoons with animals | “POV: You just need 30 seconds of peace.”“This is your sign to build a cozy little village.”“The most relaxing part of my day.” | • Focus on cute, satisfying, or calming moments• Use smooth camera movement and gentle pacing• Keep text minimal• Use relaxing / trending audio when appropriate |

|---|---|---|---|
| | from Animal Valley using AI | “Which animal would you choose?” | • Let the animals and visuals carry the video• Include animals existing in Animal Valley as main characters• Keep branding subtle and natural |
| AI / Split-Screen Reviewer | Top: Animal Valley gameplay. Bottom: reaction / AI commentary. Make the reaction entertaining and opinionated | “I didn't expect a mobile game to look like this.”“Why is nobody talking about this game?”“This game is actually way more addictive than I expected.” | • Gameplay should remain clearly visible• Reaction should feel natural• Keep commentary short and engaging• Use captions• Avoid generic / robotic reactions |
| Gaming Memes | Build a familiar gamer joke around Animal Valley gameplay. The joke should make sense without explanation. | “Me: I play games to relax. Also me:”“POV: You said one more game before bed.”“When your friend says the game looks easy.”Cute cats/foxes/bears dancing on gameplay background | • Joke must be immediately understandable• Use familiar gaming situations• Animal Valley should be the main visual• Keep branding subtle• Follow current meme pacing, but make the edit original |
| Real → Game Transition | Start with a real-life object/scene and transition into the equivalent Animal | “POV: Your dream animal village, but make it a game.” | • Make the transition seamless• Match the real-life and game visuals (animals) |

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| | Valley gameplay moment. | “What if you could build this yourself?”“From real life → Animal Valley. | • Keep the transition fast• Make the payoff visually satisfying |
